the massachusetts institute of technology has been and continues to be one of the most important global centres for economics with four chapters on themes in mit economics and 38 chapters on the lives and work of mit economists this book shows how economics became established at the institute how it produced some of the world's best known economists including Paul Samuelson, Franco Modigliani, and Robert Solow, and how it remains a global force for the very best in teaching and research in economics with original contributions from a stellar cast. The volumes provide economists, especially those interested in macroeconomics and the history of economic thought, with an in-depth analysis of MIT economics.

The price level behaviors of the CFA franc zone countries with respect to the price level of France, defined in terms of long-run convergence in price level and short-run linear dependence of their inflation rates, are not homogeneous and have a break point in the mid 1980s. Except for Congo, this paper quantifies the evolution of the price level behavior of each CFA franc zone country from 1979 to 1993 using the cointegration and error correction model techniques. The interzone linkages are also examined using the simple vector autoregression model.

Tests that cast doubt on the existence of excess co-movement in commodity prices.

Private Equity is an advanced applied corporate finance book with a mixture of chapters devoted to exploring a range of topics from a private equity investor's perspective. The goal is to understand why and which practices are likely to deliver sustained profitability in the future. The book is a collection of cases based on actual investment decisions at different stages for processes tackled by experienced industry professionals. The majority of the chapters deal with growth equity and buyout investments, however, a range of size targets and investments in different geographical markets are covered as well. These markets include several developed economies and emerging markets like China, Russia, Turkey, Egypt, and Argentina. This compilation of cases is rich in institutional details, information about different markets and segments of the industry, as well as different players and their investment practices. It is a unique insight into the key alternative asset class.
